

What's New at Intergroup? July 2023

We met on zoom on July 14 and had a really good conversation about goals for this next year. In light of that conversation, I want to share about why I do intergroup service.

The real challenge in OA is to find strong recovery. I discovered in the intergroup a group of winners. We also find that doing service, we keep learning and growing.

I would like to see more groups send reps to intergroup. One of the questions that has come up is whether Friday night is the best night to meet. Would people be more willing to come if the meeting was on Sunday afternoon? We will be discussing this question during our August meeting. Please get in touch with me between now and then if you wish to express an opinion, but are unable to come to the meeting.
