Hello Friends,

Sorry this is so late in getting out. I was waiting for the October WSO News Bulletin, then the next day my trusty very old computer froze and is unusable. I have a new one now and a challenge for me to get adjusted to this one but I will.

At this month's intergroup meeting we had 11 reps and myself. We proceeded with business beginning at 7 PM on Friday, October 9.

I let the intergroup know that our intergroup has been notified that we used on our website a copyrighted caricature without permission. The picture in question was immediately removed from our website.The company representing the publisher notified us that even if we remove it we still can be subject to a fine. Alex our former webmaster first received the email advising us of this situation. We have notified our Region 7 Trustee liaison, Preston of this as well as our World Service Publications Mgr. who gave us help in asking more questions. At this time we are waiting for a response from the company representing the publisher.

I also have included the recent CJI Outreach comm. meeting minutes.

This November we have some interesting in person events. November 7th the Red Bank Saturday meeting is having a special speaker outside of our area sharing experience strength and hope. Also please join us in East Brunswick on IDEA Day (International Day Experiencing Abstinence) on Saturday Nov. 21.

Included is a link to our CJI website event page with additional event flyers and meeting information plus a link to the October WSO News Bulletin.

A reminder to all meetings to ask first time newcomers how did they find us, very important to know this in getting our message out and attracting new members.

Our next intergroup meeting is November 13, please join us.

Yours in Service and Recovery, Ross
